FINNS ADVANCING TO NEW VICTORY

BELGIUM ON GUARD Symbolizing tiny Belgium's alert defense is this scene looking out over the flooded area which Belgium expects to be a major factor in repelling an invasion. Calling up of army supply service units, usually considered a last defense move before general mobilization, is interpreted as an indication Belgium is acutely alarmed at reports of Nazi mobilization.

Diplomatic Activity Is On Alert As Watch At Border Slackens

BRUSSELS, Jan. 17.—Tension over fears of a German attack lessened today, but Lowland defence forces were on the alert and there was an acceleration of unexplained diplomatic activity.

Both Belgium and the Netherlands followed up a week-end of military preparedness moves with official declarations that their views on international situations were formed only on information from sources controlled by themselves.

The German version of the scare in the Low Countries over the possibility of a Nazi invasion to the west of the Rhine, which had caused the Belgians and Dutch to cancel the military and naval leave, the King step yesterday to issue a decree that two million men under arms.

Belgium found the situation sufficient to warrant calling technicians in a next-to-final mobilization despite the fact the Netherlands had cancelled the military and naval leave. The King step yesterday to issue a decree that Germany's resources were smaller than they were 25 years ago and that her strength in some respects, it was also more effective than after two years of the world war.

Chaiming that the Reich was suffering severely as a result of the economic warfare waged by Britain and France, British Minister of War, Winston Churchill, said Cross told the Foreign Office that Germany's resources were smaller than they were 25 years ago and that her strength in some respects, it was also more effective than after two years of the world war.

He said: "Our information and general impressions made it necessary. We must always be alert."

Nazis Reported With 70 Divisions On Border

WESTERN LANDS—The Netherlands, Jan. 17.—According to a traveller from Westphalia—a man who served in the Austrian army during the first world war—he has seen 70 divisions concentrated against the Belgian border and 18 facing The Netherlands.

Other travellers report everything appeared ready for thrusts by two main German columns, one of which would head northwest to turn the Dutch defences, while the other would thrust southward.

Italy Gives Warning Fascism May Take Up Arms In War

By JOE ALEX. MORRIS
British United Press Foreign News Editor

Italy warned today that Fascism might find it necessary to participate at "any moment" in Europe's wars and Great Britain reported that the Allied naval blockade already was more effective than after two years of the world war.

Graziani's statement emphasized that the chief field of battle in this war is economic, despite the militant reman of the Italian dictator, who general of the Fascist party, who warned Italians to be prepared to take up arms.

Fighting fronts in both western Germany and Finland were immobilized.

Russians Driven Back In Sub-Zero Weather

HELSINKI, Jan. 17.—Finnish troops, fighting in sub-zero weather, were reported driving the Russians back in the Salla region and advancing toward a new victory today.

By THOMAS F. HAWKINS
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE CENTRAL FINNISH FORCES IN RUSSIA, Jan. 17.—Finland's ski troops have forced the Russian army out of this front from its early December positions nearly 20 miles within Finland to a line five to ten miles inside Russia.

The Finns likewise have established outposts on Soviet soil. Although Finnish ski patrols regularly are cutting into the Russian front to reconnoiter, this is the only "front" on enemy territory.

The new lines here are opposite Ileksa, about 90 miles north of Lake Ladoga, high above the rolling hills of the Russian taiga.

This correspondent crossed into Russia with a Finnish ski patrol Tuesday afternoon. An hour before the white-clad Finnish runners had put to flight a Soviet patrol of 50 men.

They were evidently slowing their pace as we plodded along on foot, pointing out fresh tracks in the snow. The Finns had darted into the forest and escaped to their own lines.

The communists said that the Finns were holding their positions in north central Finland and it was indicated that the battle—which has been slowly developing for some time—now involved 40,000 men.

The communists said that year-old Finnish troops northeast of Lake Ladoga routed a Russian detachment of about 250 men and destroyed two tanks.

The Finns are said to have 100 dead and some 100 rifles lost in the field of combat.

It was 40 degrees below zero in Mikkeli, where the thermometer was still falling. At Riga, Latvia, it was 47 degrees below, a new 70-year record.

Communication was disrupted and some deaths.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—David Lloyd George, who has had a political career of more than 50 years, may be given a voice in the conduct of a third war. It was reported today, on his 77th birthday.

It is believed that it was Lloyd George who initiated on the appointment of a generalissimo for Britain's war effort in the World War; on a convoy system to combat German submarines; on a world-wide blockade of the seas especially if Lloyd George's old World War was wrong. ## Late-Comers Not Barred

Applications were made on Monday, the opening day of the sale, for more than half the issue of war bonds. But that need not discourage those who were unable to get in their offer. New bond applications in early days totalled more than the entire issue, will this mean that late-comers have no chance. The bonds are not being sold on the basis of first-come-first-served. Early customers will not get all they want if that should shut out later applicants.

The purpose is to place the bonds as widely as possible. The books are therefore to be kept open two weeks, unless in the judgment of the Minister there seems to be no substantial reason to keep them open so long. Which means they are to be kept open as long as applications continue to come in freely, with two weeks the time limit. When they are closed, the bonds will be distributed among the would-be buyers on a pro-rata basis. Regardless of how many may have been applied for, it will not be too late to put in applications until official word is given that the sale is over.

The Way of the Aggressor

Molotoff's claim that Russian airmen had been instructed to not bomb civilians in Finland has apparently been abandoned. It has not been repeated for weeks, and could not be repeated with any regard to the known facts. Finnish cities have been and are being bombed daily, perhaps not with a deliberate intent to kill civilians, but certainly with no attempt to spare them. And it may be suspected, not without recognizing that indiscriminate bombing is an effective way to break down a nation's morale.

This is not to say that Russian airmen are particularly callous, or that the Red warriors are more brutal than aggressors usually are. Both in point of fact are only running true to form. Would-be conquerors have never been other than cruel, and their fighting men have had to be. The modern aggressors have given plenty of evidence, in China, Abyssinia and Poland, that they inherit the instincts or the methods of Jengiz Khan, Attila and Nans Sahib. Aggression is in the nature of things barbarous in its operations, and always must be. One cannot be a successful bandit without being a gun-man, willing to murder when that seems to be the road to success.

Crime Begets Crime

From the Files of the Edmonton Bulletin

It is a horrible thought, but Hon. C. D. Howe is not straining facts to produce shudders when he suggests that every nation in Europe may be drawn into one or other of the two wars which are quite obviously tending to merge into one. That in fact is the pretty general opinion of qualified observers everywhere, despite the equally general hope that the opinion will prove to be wrong.

Whether the war can be kept "localized" depends on two men, Hitler and Stalin. And those two men, unfortunately, seem bound to drag other countries into the maelstrom. Stalin had not the slightest need to make war on Finland. Hitler had no more need to make war on Poland, and thus automatically upon Britain and France. But, having started their wars, both now have military reasons to launch attacks upon still other countries.

The land, unfortunately, but in what was that threatens a crushing defeat for Russia. Germany cannot use its air force and submarines against Britain with full effect because neutral Holland and Belgium stand in the way. If Sweden and Norway were crushed, the supply route to Finland would be cut off. If the Low Countries were over-run, their ports would become bases from which Nazi U-boats and bombers could strike at England far more effectively.

But for Italy and Turkey the Balkans would be as liable to invasion by one dictator or the other as are the Low Lands and the Scandinavian peninsula.

The Fuehrer and his partner care nothing for the wholesale murder and destruction that would be carried to these neutral peoples. Their sole aim is to win their wars. Unless they win, revolution and death will likely enough overtake them, and their prestige and power will be few and far between.

certainly be doomed. Desperate situations inspire desperate measures; and Hitler and Stalin have been brought to it.

The Farming Business

It was not at all a pleasant picture of farming as a business that President Gardner presented to the U. F. A. convention, in making his annual report to that body. The picture was not pleasant because the fact is not a pleasant one. The long and short of it is that farming is not profitable in western Canada at least, and has not been for many years.

Figure submitted by Mr. Gardner showed that while many things the farmer must buy now cost more than in 1913, farm produce prices have been lower than in that year. The farmer has been hit "coming and going," with the inevitable result that his standard of living has gone down and his debts largely unpaid.

This is in a very real sense, is everybody's business. In normal times the volume of trade, and of employment for townfolk, depends intimately on the volume of farm buying. When farmers cannot buy and cannot pay, all other classes must suffer in a country where so large a proportion of the population lives on the land. General prosperity in Canada cannot be built on bankrupt agriculture.

The remedy suggested is that a board of inquiry be set up, including representatives of farmers and consumers of farm products, to find out what is the average cost of producing these commodities; that minimum prices be established at law equal to the production costs; and that the lower prices obtained for exported products be made up by a processing tax on products consumed in Canada.

If the proposal is drastic that is a virtue, for in some way balance will have to be established between farm income and outgo. There is precedent in the action taken in the United States to meet a similar situation. It is fortunate that war demand promises a better return in the immediate future for several classes of farm products. That will provide opportunity to discuss this and other methods of taking agriculture out of the "red" and making it a reasonably dependable occupation in post-war times.

The cost of living index for Canada rose to 85.5 in December from 85.0 in November. In December of 1938 it was 83.6. Advances last month in the cost of clothing were offset by decreases in food prices. The profiteers must be wondering what kind of a war this is.

Maybe that New York gang had a hardened notion they could upset the Government of the United States with a rattle following armed with guns stolen from the arsenals. They look a good deal more like a group of racketeers who aimed to collect some easy money from revolutionaries under pretence that they were going to start a rebellion.

The London Daily Mail has just written an elaborate eulogy of the work of John Gutenberg, the pioneer printer who died in 1468 at the age of 90. Unfortunately, notwithstanding what is known of this supreme benefactor of the human race, there is still a chapter in history which pictures him, whether in THE FATHER paintings or on coins, as something of a printing teefit. No book has ever won an eloquent prefatory to the first book he set up while still lives as one of the glories of English literature. The German printer left no such memoir. He was one of those who built better than he knew.

Gutenberg was a hot-blooded man. One of the few genuine facts we have about him above how he tried to solve his debt problems. He captured the town clerk of Mainz and planned to hold him for ransom, but the corporation of Mainz would not give him up. When the officials of Strasbourg urged him to shave his rigo, however, he not only released the hapless clerk but gave up all his claims to payment. Such clemency, after so harsh a beginning, suggests that he thought it prudent to make a show of mercy before the state began a parade of its power.

Intensely religious, though by no means of a spiritual nature, Gutenberg did his best work for the church. Among his most upright, the diction least of knowledge was regarded highly in monasteries and cathedral. Religion not only raised man's hopes to heaven; it gave him the bread of learning on earth. For many ages the monk was the head and sentinel of learning. Gutenberg played a vital role in enriching the borders of knowledge that books became at last the common possession of the whole world.

The Democratic party raised $700,000 for itself by the simple expedient of charging $100 a plate for a $10 meal at the Jackson Day dinner held throughout the United States. This not only wiped out the party deficit but gave it half a million dollars with which to wage its present campaign.

The Passing Show

By MAX FREEDMAN

Billinggate was sure to get into the war news. Not because some arsehole fish-wife would make the celebrated market ring with her indignant clamors, but simply because it had a just claim to prominence as once was the historic centre of Britain. The potato controller, appointed by the British FISH and government, the expected public enemy of the war, has now taken place. This gentleman, with a scornful contempt for tradition, presented himself to the King's personal chef. Then he went with his staff to live at St. John's College, Oxford. The potato controller also had taken up residence in those august halls of learning. So St. John's College became known as "Fish and Chips."

This was just as bad for Billinggate. To be despised by the government is bad enough, but to be told that fish controllers can be safer at Oxford is simply intolerable. What does Oxford know about fish—except the poor fish it plucks at an exorbitant price?

In the meantime, the decorum of the government ruderly was shattered by the chitter of Billinggate. Not only was the market re-opened, the fish controller lost his job. Three cheers for Billinggate!

A London citizen felt very lonely. No one was taking any interest in him. So he decided to do something about it. He began to repair the cracks in his fane. First step in this campaign for self-aggrandizement was the insertion of an ad in the paper: "I am a fisherman." The notice read: "D.—All hook & line."

A STORY and bed-wishes. Often in my OF CONCEIT thoughts.—G.D." Those who fall in love with themselves enter upon a romance which never will take them to the diamond.

I must think pretty much of myself to pay for the privilege of wishing him good luck through the press. There can be less quarrel with the second part of the ad. If "G.D." were in the mood for admitting the whole truth, he might go so far as to confess that no one ever was so much in his thoughts as himself.

In the novel and the movies, the gargoyle always gets shot, or else reforms. THE THREE CAPONES did neither. He took A LOOSE sick. Disease has touched his brain with disorder. Thus runs the official medical report issued by his doctor. One would have thought his brain was always occupied.

Raising A Family

How can we supply courage in children?

A. By forcing them to face a danger.

B. Comparing them to braver spirits.

C. Gradually increasing the "hazard" as they grow.

D. Making fun of them.

By all means.

"C" is the wisest way.

It is the most timid one out of his fears.

The older he gets, the more he wants to stand the roar of excitement if it is safe.

U.F.W.A. President Urges Women To Prepare Both For War And Afterwards

ENAGGING their rights to the fullest degree possible, women should aid in war-time endeavors as much as they can, but should not overdo it. "The time is coming for us to follow our years of to follow war-time," declared Mrs. M. Berger, in her speech at the annual twenty-fifth annual convention of the United Farm Women of Alberta, held at the Hotel MacDonald hotel on Tuesday afternoon.

"Our forefathers fought and died in order that we might have the liberty and the opportunity to live and destinies of our country, and yet through failure to utilize the vote, we have lost many of the freedoms which we had the feeling of unrest," which listed the number of deaths in Canada due to cancer, mental, and social diseases because of the inadequacy of preventive medicine.

HEALTH UNIT

Discussion on the system of health units in the province followed Mrs. Bailey's report. Mrs. Price led the discussion, taking the same stand as that held by Mrs. Berger. Her preventive work was extremely more valuable than Dr. Gordon Price, Mrs. Berger's husband, who war-work to aid the soldiers; we must also concern ourselves with the needs of those who fall in battle, building a firm foundation for their lives, through legislative, educational and moral improvement.

Great improvements in the women's convention were presented by Mrs. Berger, president of the U.F.W.A., and Mr. George Thring, president of the Alberta branch, who praised the work of the U.F.W.A. during the twenty-five years since its inauguration.

PAST YEARS & ACTIVITIES

Reporting on activities of the executive during the past year, Mrs. W. Ross, vice-president stated that a total of 12 meetings were held during the year, which included two meetings of the full board. The meetings immediately preceding the convention were mainly concerned with the discussion of the best way of furthering organizational work, including the formation of new units to go to outposts of politics. Subsequently a series of meetings were held in the various parts of the province, as well as in the vicinity of the Junior camp at Catar Lake, Alberta, and in the various conferences and meetings in the southern part of the province and Junior week.

An increase in U.F.W.A. membership was reported, with the 1939 enrollment of 10,000 being the highest membership maintained during the past three years since its inauguration.

HEALTH WORK

Maintaining that lack of political education is the chief source of a lot of our ill-health today, Mrs. Mattie Bailey, commented on the health unit system, stating that the indifferent attitude of the average individual to the question of public health is a definite hindrance to himself and the community is one of the greatest drawbacks to modern preventive medicine.

If the government would undertake to inaugurate, extend, and popularize a program of Better Health Days, as was suggested on during the summer of 1938, in cooperation with some of the municipalities, the interest of these individuals would be aroused to the needs of the people, and the health of people would also make them realize their own responsibility in this regard.

Mrs. Bailey stated that medical costs are so high that the majority of the people are unable to pay out of their individual incomes and that it therefore remains the responsibility of the people to decide whether health units, or group health associations or state medical care will be inaugurated in the provinces.

In 1937, the Departmental provincial and municipal governments spent approximately $250,000,000.00 on free and health, she pointed out.

CAST OF CHARACTERS

MARY CARROLL, American fashion expert in London during war; VINCENT GREGG, soldier from Canada; CARLA MARCHETTA, a mysterious London socialite; ERIC LENOX, surgeon serving with British Army.

Yesterday Dr. O'Connell prepared Mary for the operation that was to remove a tumor from her brain, a growth of facial nerves. As she goes under the knife, she asks him to tell her about Carla, the blond hoy of the Moravia. She wants to know if she will be safe and reassured. She wonders if she will emerge as Mary Carroll or as Anna Winter.

CHAPTER XIX

MARY CARROLL woke in a soft chair, her face pale and her hands cold. Why had she baked ginger bread? Why could she see only through little slits of stiff frosting?

She remembered. Dr. O'Connell had operated on the blane she has suffered on the Moravia. Had the tumor been removed? Was she still Mary Carroll again?

Through the slits in the adhesive tape, cut for her eyes, she could see a nurse who introduced herself as Miss Babcock.

"What time is it?" Mary wanted to know.

"Five o'clock. You've had a long sleep," Miss Babcock answered.

Mary tried to sit up, but she couldn't do that, the nurse cautioned. "You must lie perfectly still." She held Mary's hand in her own, and then she turned to Eric Gregg and Mary drifted back into a new world.

It was Friday and spring and there was work to be done. Only a "wave of nerves" and the stout-hearted did not worry. There was a party at a country club, John and Anna Winter were there, Robin Hood red dress, and that distinguished young man with the star on his face. Who was he?

Why, that's Vincent Gregg, an aviator. He was her fiance. Only her family and friends knew when she met him, Carla Marchetta.

She awakened with a scream.

The other had made you sick. Miss Babcock said. You'll feel better still and the names will pass away.

Several days later Miss Babcock told her she was much better. Mary knew it without being told. It seemed a piece of something the nurse would say. Mary waited. Finally it came:

"You mumble some strange things, like 'I CAN DO IT', 'I CAN DO IT', 'AVIA IN YOUR SLEEP', 'MISS LENOX', the nurse said. "I hear out what I've been thinking all along and then I wake up people think too. Someone was behind it, Mrs. Lenox. I know it."

Miss Babcock sat by the white marble bust before her, the white marble bust before her, the white marble bust before her.

"I told him what you said in your sleep. You may have to tell me again. At all times, I have to be on the alert in wartime, one mustn't miss a single chance."

The investigation about the Avia will be reopened soon because of new clues. If you are well then you may be called to testify.

"Of course," Mary said quickly. "I want to. What I have to say may not do a bit of good. But I tell everything."

Miss Babcock rose to attention as Dr. O'Connell's footnotes were read.

"Would Miss Lenox be allowed to stay over tomorrow?" Miss Babcock asked.

For the past few days Mary had not seen her.

Would Mrs. Lenox like this? Would she like that? Would Mrs. Lenox like this? Mrs. Lenox?

Would she care if the nurse read to her? It was not only her own nurse who asked, but other nurses on the floor.

Mary could not understand why she was getting out of bed so late. In her room, she should not be taking all this trouble for a mere retainer.

But you have been good to me," Mary remembered the adequate, well-mannered, efficient nurse who had been a ward patient in the same hospital.

We'll make you comfortable," the nurse replied. "For there's nothing anyone in this hospital wouldn't do for you."

For Gilbert Lenox's sake, then, Mary had been given on the night of the 17th, the 18th, the 19th, the 20th, the 21st, the 22nd, the 23rd, the 24th, the 25th, the 26th, the 27th, the 28th, the 29th, TOKYO, Jan. 17.—Foreign policy under the new cabinet of Premier Admiral Mitomo Yone, Acting Minister of Foreign Affairs, said today that "we intend to make the strongest possible effort to adjust relations with Soviet Russia."

Outlining Japan's foreign policy under the new cabinet of Premier Admiral Mitomo Yone, Acting Minister of Foreign Affairs, said today that "we intend to make the strongest possible effort to adjust relations with Soviet Russia."

The press quoted Arisawa as admitting that a complete separation with the Soviet with whom Japan has waged diplomatic and even actual war, unless war for severest reasons, is not in the national goals of the new government.

The foreign minister called attention, however, to the fact that the anti-communist pact has not been abrogated and added:

"There are insuperable ties binding Japan and Russia together as the 'have-not' nations."

Many Farmers
Produce Honey,
Mullen States

Development of mixed farming has stimulated honey production in northern Alberta, according to Hon. D. B. Mullen, minister of agriculture. "The increase in the number of the蜂 and the decrease of income obtained from the usual farm crops has prompted many men to take a few hives of bees," he said. "The success of these men has established definite and reliable markets for honey in the province." Commercial production has just begun in the northern part of the province.

He said this province is quickly transforming itself from an importer into an exporter of honey. Bee-keeping is spreading rapidly in irrigated districts, is spreading into other sections.

Southern Alberta beekeepers will produce about 75 per cent. of the total Alberta production, and yet they represent only 10 per cent. of the keepers of the province, he said.

In 1929 there were 500,000 pounds of honey produced by 150 beekeepers, while in 1945 there were 1,500,000 pounds produced by 1200 beekeepers. In 1938 Alberta exported 500,000 pounds of honey.

Approximately four-and-a-half miles of conduit pipe and 100,000 feet of wiring was installed in the new maternity wing of the Misericordia hospital, it was estimated by A. G. Simonsen, general manager of the firm of Home and Rumble, electrical contractors on the building. Estimated cost of the installation approximately $80,000 and practically every dollar of this amount was spent on the new power supply houses, while all labor on the work was recruited in the city.

Mystery Still

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The British press agreed today that the re-opening of the Hore-Belisha case, which was estimated to be a mystery as ever despite yesterday's statements in parliament, but held the general view that Mr. Hore-Belisha's restraint in not calling for a new cabinet was a flop.

"The great Belisha drama was a flop," was the way the Daily Mail summed up the House of Commons session, while the newspaper mildly criticized Prime Minister Chamberlain for leaving the cabinet and adding to it.

"I cannot complain if there is continuation of the wild speculations which he deplored in his speech," said the Daily Mirror.

By Jack Kelly
Doing Fine

Just Imagine!

LAST night comes Cameron Mackinnon in out of Arctic cold to spend a pleasant hour chatting about sports and that and down south of the border. It is nine years since Cameron left Edmonton to find himself a niche in the U.S. He finally got his niche and he's getting a big kick out this trip home. He's the brother of Johnny "K-V-Y" Mackinnon who now manages the sensational St. Louis Flyers of the American Hockey League.

Cameron himself has been closely connected with the American Association, having been referee in chief until this year when his own business made it necessary for him to drop most of whistle tooting although he still handles a few games. Cameron is in the oil business, connected with Oklahoma interests. He feels that his job has real possibilities.

So we chat about this and that and I learn a number of things. Cameron is very high on the American Association as a league and considers it is the right place for a player to start in. He has bookings for the next three weeks or so. It will be fun. All the association rings are big ice sheets that give a rookie a chance, not the little skillful affairs that predominate in the International and some other minor loops. His second point is that the pay is fair. The third point is that none of the Association clubs are tied up in any way with the N.H.L. möglich. If a player is sent up, that player gets half of his salary which generally is $250 cash in his pocket—quite a difference from the dollar or two with which N.H.L clubs hook green Juniors into signing into their chain gangs.

This last point weighs very heavy in my scales. If I were asked to give advice to youngsters who had a yen for a hockey career, I would tell them to run like the devil whenever a major league contract was offered. They should turn them down; that advice, of course they would. It would not be long until a new and brighter day dawned for all players in the big time.

Another thing that Cameron tells me is that Fort Worth, Texas, is fixing to join the American Association next year if plans work out. The loop may be broken into northern and southern sections. St. Louis, green and blue, is the center of the American's world. It is packing in more customers now than some of National League cities and the St. Louis fans show no interest whatever in attention the major league has to offer. Hockey interest is high all around the American Association loop and the future looks very substantial and rosy.

Imagine What Landis Would Do?

YOU may think that the Senate workdays of the National Hockey League may not be anybody's business up in this section of Canada, but if the moguls agree to operate under certain conditions that is their business and none of our concern.

They are very much our concern, however. We are the ones who are going to keep the game alive at the unprofitable ends. The faithful fans, the financially strapped, the front-line cashers, drilling minors and juveniles on open rinks and the people who are asked to keep every one interested and enthused are the ones who are developing the players that later on pile up profits for millionaire owners in the N.H.L.

The sport as possible, even to these kids to give them as true a picture as possible of what they may expect if they go in for a pro hockey career. Once in a while the glamor has to be ripped off and the skeleton shown.

For the past week now Commissioner Landis has been cleaning up in the baseball world. Can you imagine what he would think of the N.H.L. methods of handling players? He would be around probably the access in hockey for a while. True, the N.H.L. is probably abiding by its own rules and agreements, but do you think Landis would consider those rules and agreements the sort on which he could build up the game, possibly as he has built baseball?

The young men in baseball may be an eventful one. The 15-year agreement between N.H.L. and N.H.L. will be tested together in 1940 will be next termenous. The leap seems to be well worth the jump right now. Then it is not impossible that the Canadian-American Hockey Association may break out with a division of straight professional leagues, the ramifications for which are already made. It is possible that a few more minor leagues in Montreal can quit the N.H.L. In fact, if it had not been for the recent decision of the N.H.L. to launch its pro section this season, it is hard to say just such a C.A.H.A. move will affect the N.H.L., but the mounted moguls are so jumpy about it that I don't think it will do them much good.

THE PRIZE-WINNING CARTOON OF 1939

By Robt. Ripley

STANTON WALKER ATTENDED A BALL GAME AND WAS SEATED BETWEEN 2 FRIENDS WHO ATTEMPTED TO PASS AN OPEN POCKET KNIFE TO THE OTHER. JUST AS THE KNIFE PASSED IN FRONT OF WALKER IT WAS STRUCK BY A FOUL BALL AND DRIVEN INTO HIS HEART—KILLING HIM

MORRISON—BETHESDA—MORRISON, Ohio, 1939

EXPLANATION OF TODAY'S CARTOON

STARBED TO DEATH BY A BASEBALL: With two pals, Stanton Walker, on October 28, 1902, went to the baseball game between the Morristown and Utica teams at Morristown, Ohio. He took a seat on the third-base foul line. One of his friends apparently wanted to keep score because he asked the older, taller boy to hold a pen for him. At the end of the game, the older boy held the pen over the ball and hit it into the ground. Examination of the prostate mate revealed that the ball had driven the penknife into Walker's chest, killing him almost instantly. The blade had penetrated the heart. The account of this most remarkable tragedy, submitted by Ambrose Flanagan, of Syracuse, O., was awarded first prize in the 1939 World's Fair of Ideas contest conducted last year. Flanagan received a Buck Special sedan for recalling the incident he witnessed in boyhood.

Powerful Patrick Meehan Returns to Edmonton Mat

EDMONTON'S powerful Patrick Meehan returns to the Memorial Hall mat, making his first appearance here in two years following an extensive tour which carried him throughout European countries and mainly Australia. Meehan is matched in the secondary main event bracket on Hall Friday night.

Meehan represents the Irish in an international muscle match. Besides the Irish there are representatives from England, Scotland, Ireland, France, Italy, Poland, Jewish and Indian.

It is Meehan who meets the tribesman as he comes up from the British Isles to compete in the annual meeting of the British Columbia tribe.

Chief Thunderbird is not only a great boxer but also a fine roving, boxing, running and a remarkable shot in archery. Chief Thunderbird will be known throughout the United States and also has done considerable wrestling abroad. The Chief is 5 feet 7 inches tall and weighs 180 pounds. Chief Thunderbird is a six-footer and weighs just over 200 pounds. He is a likely match for the Irishman.

Headlining the card will be the Royal Club Pin-Busters, with Paul Kuhn a rugged wrestler and at times forgets the mythical Robin Hood. Kuhn has stout opposition in the form of Jim Johnson, Joe Hartman, George Richard.

Richard is a good looking matman and a fine boxer. He is a member of the Royal Club. Like Chief Thunderbird, he has played many sports and is an all-around athlete. Both open the card as Leo Magill is out to prove his ability to dominate fans when he meets Mike Peacock in the preliminary bout which starts at 8:30 p.m.

Dates Set For City Badminton

Dates have been set for the Edmonton city badminton championships which will be held on Jan. 25 and 26 at the Edmonton Badminton Club. Interest in the game is keen and officials are optimistic that the tournament will be a success.

Present indications are that all champions will defend their titles.

Boston "Kraut Kids" Pace Bruins to 6-1 Win

MONTREAL, Jan. 17.—Boston's famed "Kraut Kids," Mitt Schmidt, Woody Dumart and Bobby Bauer, picked up eight scoring points last night, leading the Bruins to the top of the National Hockey League standing with a 6-1 victory over Montreal Canadiens.

The victory meant a two-point lead for Boston at the top of the standings over the Bruins and New York Rangers.

A crew of 100 men from Little Falls, N.Y., were sent to cheer about as many Louis Saks as possible.

It was Cain's 14th goal of the season and put him only one behind the leading Gordie Drillon.

Lefty Leblanc also had a point. He is a point up on Saks, having 14 goals and five assists compared with four goals and 13 assists for the Canadians.

Tanker Catches Fire Off English Coast And Sinks

LONDON, Jan. 17.—An unidentified Italian vessel collided with a lightship off the southeast coast last night. Because the lightship was in danger of sinking, the crew abandoned the vessel and was picked up by a naval vessel.

Clapper, taken to a nearby hospital immediately after the impact, had a stich taken to close the cut. Cain's goal meant that Canadiens will have to buy the stocks left winged by the team's first loss of the season, a Canadian war loan bond. President Ernie Savard of Canadiens said he was sorry the Bruins both claim to have fared better in the deal that sent Cain to Bruins and Charles Smith before the start of the year.

Their arguments led to a bet that if Cain scored last night, the Montreal club would buy back his bond, while if Saks got a goal.

EXTRA JUDGES REQUIRED FOR SEED DISPLAY

Large Entry and Close Competition Found At Fairs

Closely competition and unexpectedly high number of entries resulted in a call for extra judges to handle the large number of district seed fairs which commenced a two-day session at the Masonic Temple, Wednesday. Judging actually commenced Tuesday so that it would be completed by the time business sessions opened Wednesday. Judges engaged Wednesdays days were still hard at work Wednesday afternoon.

More than 224 entries are listed in the district fair, while the provincial fair is practically filled in every class.

PRICE EXHIBITS

Included at the fair is a display of 78 Alberta prize winning exhibits from the Chicago International Fair, including cattle, sheep, hogs, and poultry.

Lloyd Rigby, Wembly, the Chicago International Fair's grand champion, has entered samples in the fair. Justin Rigby, last year's Chicago wheat king, also is an exhibitor.

The entries will be at the fair, 73 of which will be sold at the same prices in their districts and are being given this trip as a reward for their efforts.

"This to me is a serious mistake. This is my judgment the fundamental problems facing western agriculture will be solved only by the organization of the people to defend themselves through strongly organized and strongly-supported farm organizations."

Commissioners believe that only 25 per cent of these bonds actually are held by United States owners. The American owners must be paid in American money, which will cost $200 of interest to the Canadian government if payment in either U.S. or Canada. To purchase the American exchange will cost the city over $100 more.

He is a third-year student of the 1938 Intercollegiate debating team and has been active in Medical Club activities on the campus. He receives his M.D. in the spring.

The resolution declares that since the U.F.A. is now out of politics, the party's policies will not be pursued, and "would inevitably lead to a situation where leaders of our association will permit individuals to receive such gifts from abroad—provided the quantities do not exceed five pounds of any one commodity."

Mr. Gardner suggested that the original draft of the resolution be amended so that it would permit a president and vice-president from becoming a political candidate or member of any legislature or organization of any political party.

Another resolution instructed the board of directors to appoint a committee to contact the United Farmers of Canada Alberta section, to discuss ways and means of having one organization speak for all farmers in the province. Recommendations to effect this end are to be brought in at the U.F.A. convention next year.

Resignation of Director Holden, of Lethbridge, after 10 years' service, was accepted by Mr. Gardner.

Mr. Gardner, who has been a member of the provincial governments for their assistance.

Mr. Longman, provincial field crops commissioner outlined the Alberta Crop Improvement plan, under which the federal and provincial governments are to assist in the general policy of improving crops.

Difficulties of crop production and the raising of registered and certified seed to required standards were discussed.

Frank Foulds, chief of the Dominion agricultural service branch, Canada, spoke on the importance of science being given by the Dominion government. The policy in encouraging research was the same as last year.

RESOLUTIONS

Several resolutions were passed, including one advocating that the members of the boards of review of the various boards of agriculture make available to the public their knowledge and careful thought to the application that have come before them.

"I think it would be contrary to the best interests of the Canadian economy if the protection afforded by the provincial and federal acts were taken away prematurely and the farmer left to fend for himself subject to an intense and concerted drive for the collection of outstanding liabilities."

URGES SUPPORT

"I suggest that the matter is of sufficient immediate importance to encourage the action of all farmer organizations and the public generally in support of the maintenance of reasonable protective legislation."

Placing a bill in the House definitely as one of the principal items in the program of western agriculture at this time and I believe that the bill could be introduced so that it would be adopted those who may have the protection of this legislation in mind. The organizations had that wide support which would enable them to stand up to the attacks upon the provincial legislation but also the general policies followed under the Dominion legislation would be able to make their representations as speaking for the large body of western farmers."

"I believe it is entirely practical that one body might be created which would have the authority now possessed by both boards to have the full and complete power to deal with private debt in such manner as is considered reasonable and equitable."

TAX INCREASE

Increases in taxation, particularly income tax, would be unavoidable due to Canadian contributions to the war, Mr. Browne stated when discussing the wheat marketing situation.

Subject being covered in the classes include objectives of administration, financial management by Rev. H. Burkholder; mid-week classes with practical teaching, with explorers, and mission has been added to the curriculum. Youth and worship, by Miss Carradine; vital parts of the Old Testament, by Dr. D. Miller.

Afternoon classes are held at 2:30 pm and evening classes at 7:45 pm. Rev. Mr. Burkholder's classes will discuss the principles of Christian teaching, worship services, enlisting and training workers, organization of workers' committees, leading the church, roles relating to the Sunday school, spiritual and ecclesiastic, spirit and purpose of it all.
